

2022 Medicare Supplement Plan

The Medicare Supplement Plan offers retired members secondary medical coverage that complements Medicare Parts A and B. It also provides comprehensive prescription drug benefits. Effective January 1, 2022, Medicare Supplement coverage will include vision exam and eyewear benefits, along with access to counseling sessions, financial and legal assistance, and more.

HOW IT WORKS

Medicare Supplement coverage generally provides benefits for the same services and supplies covered by Medicare Parts A and B, including

- prolonged hospitalization, skilled nursing facility care, and inpatient and outpatient psychiatric treatment;
- medical supplies and services; and
- ambulance services.

Medicare Supplement also covers your Medicare Part A and Part B deductibles.

After Medicare pays its portion of covered charges, Medicare Supplement coverage typically pays 80 percent of Medicare's allowance for the remaining balance after your Medicare Supplement deductible is met.

Medicare Supplement coverage also provides benefits for the following expenses that are not covered by Medicare Parts A and B:

- vision coverage that includes annual routine eye exams (and screenings related to certain health conditions) through the VSP Choice network for a $25 copay, along with an annual benefit for eyeglasses or contact lenses (and discounts on lens enhancements and extra glasses) for a $25 copay through VSP Choice providers
- emotional health and family support, financial and legal assistance, and more through the Employee Assistance Plan (EAP)

- outpatient prescription drugs (you pay a copayment for each covered drug)
- medically necessary medical care when traveling outside the United States

Refer to Guide to the Medicare Supplement Plan for detailed lists of expenses that are and are not covered.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE TO ENROLL

When you retire, you may enroll in Medicare Supplement if you:

- are Medicare-eligible (generally, age 65 or older);
- meet the rule of 70;*
- are enrolled in Medicare Parts A and B; and
- have been covered continuously by a qualified health plan until you enroll in Medicare Supplement.

These family members also may enroll in Medicare Supplement, regardless of whether you choose to enroll when you are eligible:

- your spouse or eligible child who has maintained continuous coverage and is enrolled in Medicare Parts A and B
- your surviving or former spouse who has maintained continuous coverage and is enrolled in Medicare Parts A and B

* To meet the rule of 70, you must be age 55 or older when you terminate eligible active service and have at least five years of Medical Plan participation. Additionally, the sum of your age and years of Medical Plan participation at termination must equal 70 or more.

CONTINUOUS COVERAGE

To enroll for Medicare Supplement coverage, you must be covered continuously by a qualified health plan. The medical coverage you had through the Board while actively working typically will meet this requirement if you retire at age 65 (or later) and enroll in Medicare Supplement coverage right away.

If you retire before age 65, you will need to maintain continuous coverage through another qualified health plan, such as medical continuation coverage through the Board or coverage through the federal Health Insurance Marketplace, a state exchange, or a spouse's employer's health plan, until you turn 65 and enroll in Medicare.

If you are Medicare-eligible. You may enroll in Medicare Supplement coverage when you retire or file a waiver* to preserve your right to enroll at a later date. In either case, you must complete the Medicare Supplement Enrollment, Waiver, or Withdrawal form (included in your retirement packet). Return the completed, signed form to the Board no less than 45 days before your retirement date, but no later than 60 days after your last day of medical coverage through the Board as an active employee. You may enroll in Medicare Supplement at a later date only if the Board has your completed, signed waiver* on file.

If you are not Medicare-eligible. If you retire before age 65 and enroll in medical continuation coverage or another qualified health plan, you may preserve the right to enroll in Medicare Supplement by submitting the Medical Continuation Enrollment or Waiver form.
